Follow popular YouTubers Kaelin and Kyrah Edwards as they grow from young and in love, believing the hard part of life is over, to adulthood, filled with both challenges and opportunities. Kaelin and Kyrah Edward's viral video of 2016 (Crazy Girlfriend Throws iPhone in the Pool!) thrust them into the spotlight with a velocity that they never could have imagined. Since that time, they have grown up in front of their audience—they have built their relationship, gotten married, grown their family through the births of their two little boys. What began for them as the posting of a prank video has evolved into an engaged viewership of over 2 million on their various social channels that looks to them for guidance in how to make good life decisions. This Kind of Love follows the Edwards' family's adventure as they learn to live through the lens of God's promises and principles, such as: Waiting to have sex until marriage out of obedience to God's plan for our lives. Waiting to take the time to lay a foundation for our future rather than rushing to get on with life. Waiting for God's plan for our lives to be revealed. Waiting for God's timing. Waiting for God to refine our character. Waiting for one another to become who we will be. Waiting for God to come through when trouble comes. In This Kind of Love, Kaelin and Kyrah invite you to join their often tumultuous journey and experience—alongside of them—the joy and beauty that comes through waiting for God to do His work in our lives. High and Mighty Lulu.com After Hurricane Katrina, the Hawthorne family moves up north to Lees, New Hampshire. Their next-door neighbor, Mrs. Bessie Quitman, suggests using Steve Hardwick for their lawn service. Unbeknownst to the family, he is a serial killer of Ted Bundy. After the Hawthornes murders, Sarah Langcaster moved to Lees, New Hampshire, to set up Simplicity Gift and Flower Shop with her older sister, Aerial Langcaster. Does she have enough time to stop serial killer Steve Hardwick from murdering her? This Kind of Love Simon and Schuster Popular Mechanics inspires, instructs and influences readers to help them master

This book is about the life and times of a famous drug dealer/pimp from Northern California. He was at the height of his game and treated everyone fair. Then jealousy and envy set in within his peers who hired a hit man to try and kill him. He became a modern day outlaw at a young age and he rode around with his motorcycle gang at every event. His lifestyle was lavish and he purchased cars off the showroom floor brand spanking new. Buckle up and take a ride with plenty of twists and turns into this dangerous lifestyle of drugs and pimping.

Branding guru Aaker shows how to eliminate the competition and become the lead brand in your market This ground-breaking book defines the concept of brand relevance using dozens of case studies-Prius, Whole Foods, Westin, iPad and more-and explains how brand relevance drives market dynamics, which generates opportunities for your brand and threats for the competition. Aaker reveals how these companies have made other brands in their categories irrelevant. Key points: When managing a new category of product, treat it as if it were a brand; By failing to produce what customers want or losing momentum and visibility, your brand becomes irrelevant; and create barriers to competitors by supporting innovation at every level of the organization. Using dozens of case studies, shows how to create or dominate new categories or subcategories, making competitors irrelevant Shows how to manage the new category or subcategory as if it were a brand and how to create barriers to competitors Describes the threat of becoming irrelevant by failing to make what customer are buying or losing energy David Aaker, the author of four brand books, has been called the father of branding This book offers insight for creating and/or owning a new business arena. Instead of being the best, the goal is to be the only brand around-making competitors irrelevant.

From the acclaimed author of The Wilder Sisters comes this bittersweet, deeply moving story of four displaced women who unite to run a flower farm, heal their hearts, and realize the depth and necessity of friendship. Phoebe Thomas has lived life as a spectator, confined to a wheelchair, in awe of her beloved Aunt Sadie and overshadowed by her financial wizard brother, James. But when Sadie dies, leaving her a flower farm, the world opens up to Phoebe in ways she could never have imagined. Taking in three roommates to help get the farm running, she finds herself, for the first time in her life, part of a close circle of woman friends. Each displaced from her home, these four women form an invaluable bond as they help one another learn to change their lives. Set against the gorgeous backdrop of California's central coast, Bad Girl Creek is the inspiring story of how friendship and purpose can transform even the most compromised of women, as well as situations. With her rich, melodic prose and charming wit, JoAnn Mapson enchantingly chronicles female strength, family complexities, life crises, the use of humor as a curative power, and love in all its many aspects. Bad Girl Creek is a breathless and pitch-perfect tragicomedy of female friendship in the new American West.

boyfriend is dead. Despite her words, being alone isn't a good thing for an suicidal cutter. Fear of the disease has kept her inside, frozen with indecision. When she finally ventures out she finds survivors: dog-people--altered by the disease, left less than human, and people less scarred, some from her past. A shocking turn of events leaves blood on her hands and reveals a link to a stranger she thought was dead. Bellingham turns dangerous; Lizzie and her friends flee across deserted lands seeking safety and hope for new beginnings. Along the way people join their quest. They encounter fledgling governments, new and old religious fanatics and marauding renegades. In a world with plenty of food, plenty of gas, plenty of space... fear, anger and lust for power still control the patterns of human life. An edgy, realistic, Young Adult apocalypse written by a former alternative high school teacher for the angry, sad Children of the Children of the 80s, teenagers who grew up on their parents' Hair Metal, John Hughes movies, and pizza. Oh, and their parents who aren't too old to recognize themselves...

DEXA 2004, the 15th International Conference on Database and Expert Systems Applications, was held August 30 - September 3, 2004, at the University of Zaragoza, Spain. The quickly growing spectrum of database applications has led to the establishment of more specialized discussion platforms (DaWaK Conference, EC-Web Conference, EGOVConference, Trustbus Conference and DEXA Workshop: Every DEXA event has its own conference proceedings), which were held in parallel with the DEXA Conference also in Zaragoza. In your hands are the results of much effort. The work begins with the preparation of the submitted papers, which then go through the reviewing process. The accepted papers are revised to final versions by their authors and are then arranged within the conference program. All culminates in the conference itself. For this conference 304 papers were submitted, and I want to thank to all who contributed to it; they are the real base of the conference. The program committee and the supporting reviewers produced altogether 942 referee reports, in average 3,1 reports per paper, and selected 92 papers for presentation. At this point we would like to say many thanks to all the institutions that actively supported this conference and made it possible. These were: • University of Zaragoza • FAW • DEXA Association • Austrian Computer Society L.A. Justice Lulu.com

A Friend of Nikki Sunshine's - is a fast paced fictional romantic thriller that lands an unsuspecting young woman in a modern day coup d'etat. At14, Zinna Osani's life began to change - for years since her mother left, she's been taken care of by a domestic staff. Her father, Olandis, is a successful businessman, who works hard running the family business - he hired others to do the parenting. They were ordered to do everything for her, and he got angry when she did things herself. It was okay when she was a child, but in her early teens, she rebelled, and they fought vehemently. With her 18th birthday approaching, the more he wanted his beautiful young butterfly to remain a Caterpillar, but she resisted. At 21, Olandis suffered an attack, leaving her, an adult - but still a child who's naïve and immature to run things. Admittedly, because she had no idea what the company even does, she hired Tyler Wells as acting President. He introduced new ideas and strategies which propelled Osani Industries into a major player, the performance leap was noticeable and immediate. A year later they had a deal to sell OI to Tyler, upon what the doctors said was certain death for Olandis - she'd go fulfill a dream, attend college and compete on their gymnastic team. 6 months later, she's in school, Olandis is making a remarkable recovery, and OI is working on a product that will mean billions in profit. Since Olandis didn't die, Tyler never got control, and now feels like he's being cheated. He formulates a plan to change that, first he needs to get rid of Olandis and Zinna, jumpstarting a frenetic symphony of action. The only person standing in the way, is a mafia hitman named Nikki Sunshine.

Tajir considered herself invisible. She was focused and determined to leave the hood behind. With her thoughts being on school and what she could achieve by remaining studious, she didn't care for childish things. That included relationships. At times it was hard being the one who had no one to claim as her own and loneliness got the better of her. That is until a high yellow, well-built young man draped in diamonds and the finest attire catches her eye. Relentless with his attempts at getting close to Taj, he finally succeeds and making her his. However, the feeling of being wanted, finally, turns into a nightmare. G— her newly found love interest— carelessly pulls out guns in public, smacks grown men across the face, and has one hell of a temper. If that isn't intimidating enough, he seems to control Taj's every move. Being invisible is her one and only wish now. RaShad— a chocolate colored, smooth-talking, hard worker who keeps a smile on her face— spots something in Tajir that she can't seem to see herself. The poison of her past won't allow her to escape G's memories and all that he's done to and for her. Ultimately it could ruin something new and possibly exciting. Tajir has two choices. She can get rid of the thought of the gangster that was G, and accept RaShad for who he is. Or, she could look beyond the smooth-talking and pay attention to RaShad's random trips, odd stacks of money when he has no check stubs to prove the hours he claims to work, and the fact that he has far reach within the community. He's admired by many and is even deemed as Robin Hood of the Hood. Is he really different from the bully that is G, though, or is he just good at preserving a certain side of the business from Tajir's view? Standing amidst two gangsters who seem to be madly in love with her, Taj is forced to make a decision between the two that could cost her, her future. Could it be G the Bully, or Rashad the Prince of Charm?

January 1937. Clouds of war are gathering over a fogbound London. Twenty-eight year old Jack is poor, lonely and desperate to change his life. So when he's offered the chance to be the wireless operator on an Arctic expedition, he jumps at it. Spirits are high as the ship leaves Norway: five men and eight huskies, crossing the Barents Sea by the light of the midnight sun. At last they reach the remote, uninhabited bay where they will camp for the next year. Gruhuken. But the Arctic summer is brief. As night returns to claim the land, Jack feels a creeping unease. One by one, his companions are forced to leave. He faces a stark choice. Stay or go. Soon he will see the last of the sun, as the polar night engulfs the camp in months of darkness. Soon he will reach the point of no return - when the sea will freeze, making escape impossible. And Gruhuken is not uninhabited. Jack is not alone. Something walks there in the dark.
