HE KNOCKED ON HER

DOOR.... The man every girl dreamed of-but every woman knew was dangerous. With his wicked sense of humor and sexy smile, Wade Matteo wreaked havoc on the average female. But struggling single mom Geneva Jensen prided herself on being strong. No way would she fall for the successful, single, charming man. Yet Wade had a softer side that he hid from everybody else-though as his neighbor, Geneva saw his kindness to her little boy. Was there a chance that this woman-wary Bachelor of the Year would ever settle down? Was that love knocking on the door?

Earth seems to be struggling, reeling from the impacts of industrial civilization. Is a bright future possible? Can both people and planet thrive?The journey from where we currently are to where we would like to be is far shorter than most people imagine because the most important part of that journey is inside us. It starts by leaving behind the stories that disconnect us from our essential nature as well as from our deep belonging to this planet and universe. From the far reaches of the cosmos to the bacteria that inhabit your gut, science is uncovering the evidence that rewrites our human story and the story of our planet and universe.We are part of Earth's evolving life, part of the fabric of nature, and we hold within us the ability to connect to a radical creativity - a creativity that is guided by our hearts even as it makes full use of our rational minds. You hold a transformational power, one that can help to shift our culture and our planet through the perils of a changing climate. This book will show you the path to becoming a partner in the creation of our ongoing, co-evolutionary adventure with Earth.

being introduced to

Winnie Sheffield Diamond, who lives to be 100 years old, in The Tenth Mile.

Each decade of her life represents a mile of her journey. Follow her along the path of her life, meeting friends and loved ones who helped make her long life a happy one. Born in 1912, Winnie's family faces the challenges of loss and disappointment. But there is an abundance of strength found within the circle of their family. The goodness of life gives balance to the hard times as the five Sheffield children individually seek out, and find, their place in the world. When Oliver Diamond enters her life, Winnie's interests lies elsewhere. But circumstances eventually draw them together in what quickly becomes a moving love story. Ollie's easygoing, fun-loving nature makes him one of the most loved characters in the book. His shenanigans and the raw-edged honesty of fellow character Hester Driver will keep you laughing. Midwife Maggie Windsor, who delivers the Sheffield children, becomes an extension of the family when she is asked by Winnie's mother to live with them. With a compelling story of her own, Maggie's metamorphosis is a touching tribute to the power of being loved and accepted. You'll feel as if you know each of them as they journey through their lives, leaving their footprints behind in the rich soil of Blue Ridge, Georgia. ...life is mocked by death, and we are the fools." -- Justin Chance. Is this the despairing conviction of an eighteen-year-old boy haunted by personal demons pursuing him as he runs from a tragic past? Or were these words uttered in ignorance of the real demons seen by supersleuth Benjamin Wade as the Baby-Boomer parents of Michael Weston and Michael's betrothed Erin Jennings. When the friendship of Michael and Justin metamorphoses into romantic love before the fireplace on a snowy Christmas Eve, their lives suddenly change forever. Michael, a successful software entrepreneur at the young age of twenty, must now choose between Love and Love and can only watch helplessly as his world begins to collapse around him. A story of two boys who are coming of age in a Baby Boomer-dominated society and who find themselves suddenly faced with all the great questions humanity has perpended for millennia--questions about love and life and fate and who we are as participants in the social order, indeed as members of the human species--it is an indictment of the Boomer generation and the world that generation has created. As Michael and Justin struggle to understand the great personal and societal forces bearing down heavily upon them and to do what they each believe in their young minds is the right thing under impossible circumstances, their superior intelligence can find little guidance in the accepted wisdom of their country. A cast of colorful characters animates a story of deep emotion engaging the reader, a story whose suspense rivets as it builds toward the dramatic climax.

Lucky in Love. That's the name of the dating app I picked, hoping to find Mr. Better Than Average so I can hold off planning my future as a cat lady. I've been distracted eyeballing a tall, dark, and handsome Latin hottie who works in the library with me. He is way out of my league, and a woman has needs if you know what I mean. Finding a man shouldn't be hard when all I have to do is swipe left or right. It'll weed out the slimy men who have Bad Date written all over them. Yeah, I'm learning quickly that I'm rather unlucky in love after all. The men I pick need warning labels, kissing lessons, and a good talking-to about manners. Should I throw in the towel or will this series of bad dates be exactly what I need to win Mr. Right?

Warning: This book is for mature readers only. It contains adult themes, coarse language, and descriptive sexual situations. Jess O'Connor has watched her seven cousins and younger sister find love and start families. She's happy for them, but she's ready to find her own happily ever after. She sees that with the sexy mechanic that makes her heart thump and her body ache. Wade Rivers not only owns one of the best repair shops in the city but he's also a single father. When he decides to expand his business, someone doesn't want him to succeed. Even with concerns someone is out to hurt him, he loses his heart to the first woman to turn his head in years. Jess makes him feel whole again. Will strange incidents at the garage bring them closer together or will things blow up around them?

William Woodburn Russler (1833-1911) was born Huntingdon County, Pennsylvania, the son of Benjamin Russler (1803-1879) and Ann Dorland Russler (1813-1884). He married Catharine Ann Davidson (1834-1906), daughter of Samuel I. and Catharine Bolich Davidson, in 1855 at Freeport, Illinois. They had twelve children 1856-1877. He died at Bushnell, Illinois. Descendants listed lived in Illinois and elsewhere. The Living Earth Handbook Gerald Juhnke Drug cartel violence along the US-Mexico Border is rampant. News media and rumor mills abound with factual and fictitious stories about drug cartel murders, kidnappings, tortures, and shootings. The stories are both horrifying and heartbreaking. They provide a fertile backdrop for ABDUCTED: Dr. Wade Stone San Antonio Stone Oak a story where fact and fiction comeingle, simmer, and bond with readers' imaginations to become "imagined reality." The story highlights Dr. Wade Stone. His clinical traumatology experience spans 25 years. Stone is a renowned Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) authority. Dr. Stone's clinical expertise and research focus on the intertwined junctions of PTSD, suicide, violence, family, and addiction. He has successfully treated hundreds of trauma survivors-men, women, and children. From America's returning wounded warriors to victims of horrendous and brutally unthinkable attacks, Stone thinks he has seen it all. Now as an esteemed university professor, Stone has a perfect and carefree life. He has an incredibly loving and devoted family. His friends are supportive and kind. And, his students? They are energetic, intelligent, and capable. Little does this San Antonio Stone Oak resident realize his life is on a collision course with a new reality-a reality that will twist his life forever.

"As pragmatic as it is compassionate, this intimate, humorous, and ultimately relaxing invitation to re-wild yourself, stripping away all that is not your true nature, will leave you inspired and curious to discover the wild woman within" (Lissa Rankin, MD, New York Times bestselling author of Mind Over Medicine). For the high-achieving modern woman today, having a successful career, a fulfilling romantic relationship, and a satisfying personal life can feel like opposing goals. It has even become difficult to take the time to enjoy the simple pleasures in lives. We are stuck in "go-mode," damaging our romantic relationships, pleasure, and creativity. But what if there were a way to experience the simplest pleasures of our lives on a deeper level, freeing the body and psyche from these destructive patterns? Beyond our current stereotypes about femininity lies the ancient wisdom of the Wild Woman archetype, a model of building a feminine "body intelligence." By embodying this archetype and using tantra--not just in the bedroom, but also to build intimate connections to our senses and physical movements--we can break harmful psychological patterns. In The Wild Woman's Way, Michaela Boehm shares practical rituals and exercises drawn from years of experience as a celebrity relationship and life counselor and an expert in tantric yoga. She reveals the power of different types of touch, while also training you in forms of meditation and stretching that increase activity and sensual pleasure.
