The short book consists of a series of "meditations," many less than a page long, that explore various facets of language and reading. The Pleasure Of Text Roland Barthes "For the text, nothing is gratuitous except its own destruction". A brief and equally dense essay by Roland Barthes analysing the text's ultimate mission, which is none other than to cause pleasure--or rather, bliss--in the reader. Eye-opening in places, almost impenetrable in others, Barthes' writing, regardless of its actual meaning or depth, is nevertheless ludic and compelling, the form itself contributing to most of its enjoyment. The Pleasure of the Text by Roland Barthes The Pleasure of the Text (1973) In his 1997 history of Structuralism, History of Structuralism: Volume One: The Rising Sign, 1945-1966, François Dosse described Roland Barthes in a number of ways—"the Mother Figure of Structuralism," "one of structuralism's best barometers," "a weather vane for structuralism," "a mythic figure of structuralism.". Most importantly and all in his opening paragraph on Barthes, Dosse described Barthes in terms of "his flexibility with ... Roland Barthes: "The Pleasure of the Text" | Art History ...
