 This is just my opinion, but I would definitely write up your work experience using 5 categories format suggested by the PEO. A resume is usually not a sufficient representation of the whether your work experience is actually engineering experience (by PEO standards), because typically it does not contain enough details about what you did.
 Engineering Experience: Example 1 - The P.Eng. Applicant
 I have been told to get additional 1 year experience. I am an electrical engineer with 7 year Canadian and 3 years international experience. Is it possible if you could help me with the write up for experience records or if i can get example of electrical design that would be great. I am working in consulting field.

 Professional Engineering Experience and Verification
 Progressive engineering experience And from what I have seen of European licensing requirements, their terminology is similar. For example, FEANI uses the term "valid professional experience." You could just as easily rephrase the requirement to state "engineering experience that is progressive" if that helped the phrase make more sense to you.
 What constitutes progressive engineering experience?
 As a young engineer during the last one year of my working experience, I have learned that Engineers need to be specific in their description. For example, "I have a long rod" and "I drive alot" doesn't really mean anything to us. I am surprised the OP doesn't know this and already applying for PE license.
