Maureen O'Carroll vividly brings to life growing up in a large, quirky but ambitious Irish immigrant family, as seen through the eyes of middle child Maureen. After years of periodic imprisonment in Ireland for their fight for independence, Maureen's parents immigrated to Sydney, Australia where they raised ten children during the Depression and war time. The patriarch, John O'Carroll, sets up in the storefront of their Balmain terrace house a barbershop, The Anchor Hairdressing Salon, which becomes a hub of activity for the locals. Throughout this colorful memoir infused with Irish history, local politics, Catholicism and the humorous struggles of Depression-era life, music remains a vital theme; it is instrumental in all ten O'Carroll children overcoming their hard circumstances to achieve a better life.

(String). The three-volume textbook with complementary tune books lays the foundation for a solid technical and musical training. Structured in an easy and understandable way, it is aimed at older children, young people and adults. The accompanying CD offers a rhythmic motivating playback of many pieces. This is how cello playing is great fun!

The Advancing Cellist's Handbook Penguin

...designed as a guide for cellists and their parents, takes a gradual, stepwise approach to reading tenor clef.

The Art of Cello Playing Mel Bay Publications

The Advancing Cellist's Handbook is the most thorough guide to practicing the cello available. It covers everything that an aspiring musician would expect to find in such a book, plus many things that other books do not address, such as the psychology of practicing and how to practice without the instrument. It also includes a walk-through of a hypothetical practice session along with specific descriptions of how to practice several common works from the cello literature. Perfect for the person who sincerely wants to improve as a cellist, or for those who want to get the most out of individual practice time but don't know how.

AN INSTANT NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER • A REESE'S BOOK CLUB PICK Tired, stressed, and in need of more help from your partner? Imagine running your household (and life!) in a new way... It started with the Sh*t I Do List. Tired of being the "shefault" parent responsible for all aspects of her busy household, Eve Rodsky counted up all the unpaid, invisible work she was doing for her family—and then sent that list to her husband, asking for things to change. His response was...underwhelming. Rodsky realized that simply identifying the issue of unequal labor on the home front wasn't enough: She needed a solution to this universal problem. Her sanity, identity, career, and marriage depended on it. The result is Fair Play: a time- and anxiety-saving system that offers couples a completely new way to divvy up domestic responsibilities. Rodsky interviewed more than five hundred men and women from all walks of life to figure out what the invisible work in a family actually entails and how to get it all done efficiently. With 4 easy-to-follow rules, 100 household tasks, and a series of conversation starters for you and your partner, Fair Play helps you prioritize what's important to your family and who should take the lead on every chore, from laundry to homework to dinner. "Winning" this game means rebalancing your home life, reigniting your relationship with your significant other, and reclaiming your Unicorn Space—the time to develop the skills and passions that keep you interested and interesting. Stop drowning in to-dos and lose some of that invisible workload that's pulling you down. Are you ready to try Fair Play? Let's deal you in.

The author's stated purpose in writing The Art of Cello Playing is to present a progressive sequence of commentary and material as a basis for acquiring a sound technical foundation and basic playing competence to prepare the player for exploring the rich solo, orchestral, and chamber music literature of the instrument. To that end he has produced a comprehensive textbook and reference manual on beginning to advanced cello technique with emphasis on the vital beginning foundation. Louis Potter Jr., is particularly well qualified to make this contribution from his wide experience in teaching both classes and individuals at Michigan State University and at National Music Camp, Interlochen, Michigan.

The Cello Method for Young Beginners CreateSpace

Designed to supplement the volume 3 method instruction book by providing the accompaniment parts, both books are intended to be used together. Perfect for individual lessons and group classes furnishing a bass line which makes playing and learning a more enjoyable experience. The arrangements are all at Level 3 which include all positions up to the fourth and the half-string harmonics. Cellists of all ages will be able to benefit from these gratifying and excellently crafted duets.

This method is the second for cello beginners. It contains progressive exercises and small pieces, all in first position, but introducing the extensions. The cellist can in the same time practise the bowing and the left hand techniques, and educate his musical sense, the progression is very slow. Both volumes 1 and 2 observe the same spirit : go slowly and practise with pleasure."What makes the originality and attractiveness of the Cello Method Micheline Cumant offers us is intelligently phased approach and the careful choice of popular or well-known themes that catch the attention of young cellist. I wish her all the success it deserves." Reine Flachot - Teacher at University of Arts in Tokyo, in Conservatoire National Supérieur de Musique in Lyon and in Ecole Normale Supérieure de Musique in Paris.

113 Etudes for Cello Alfred Music Publishing

CelloMind is a two-part pedagogical method book that focuses on intonation and left-hand cello technique. The coauthors of the book are Hans Jørgen Jensen, Professor of cello at the Bienen School of Music at Northwestern University and Minna Rose Chung, Associate Professor of Cello at the Desautels Faculty of Music at the University of Manitoba. Part I: Intonation. The mystery of intonation is revealed by defining and explaining the scientific principles that govern it. To know and understand how to combine the three primary intonation systems has never before been expounded in a methodology publication--and for good reason. Playing with exquisite intonation has mostly been reserved for those who possess a strong intuitive sense; however, CelloMind breaks down this taboo using a systematic approach with a highly attuned manner. The three systems of intonation that string players most commonly use today--equal temperament, just intonation, and Pythagorean tuning--are each explored and explained in great detail. All chapters in the book include many practical samples and listening exercises that bridge the gap between the theory and its application. The chapters on intonation conclude with practical examples from the following repertoire:

"Intonation Performance Practice in the Bach Solo Cello Suites" and "Intonation Performance Practice with Piano." Part II: Left-Hand Technique. The left-hand technique chapters in this section complement the study of intonation by providing a solid foundation of skills for essential cello playing. The topics and exercises have been selected to cover a wide range of technical skills that include playing with a light left-hand touch, speed, coordination, balanced vibrato, agility, finger independence, and efficient shifting. Original exercises developed for students over many years have also been incorporated into these chapters, as well as studies from Julius Klengel, Bernhard Cossmann, Louis R. Feuillard, Jean-Louis Duport, Yakov Rosenthal, and Fritz Albert Christian Rudinger.
