A dragonfly zooming by can be difficult to see in detail. That's why this book is perfect for young readers who would like to take a closer look at these extraordinary insects. Macro images show dragonflies in their natural environments and in action. At-level text allows readers to connect key concepts. Readers will be surprised to see and learn that a dragonfly has two separate sets of wings. They'll learn about a dragonfly's life cycle and habitat and discover how beautiful a dragonfly can be.

Here Today Turtleback Describes how animals use a variety of different techniques as a means of protection, including using camouflage coloring, hiding in burrows or the sand, using protective shells, spines, or bones, and living in groups. Beetle Bellwether Media Color the life cycle of a ladybug, cricket, butterfly, honey bee and a frog. Have fun learning and discovering the facts about them. Enjoy activities such as word search, mazes and draw your own life cycle. Finding the Spots and Connecting the Dots Cambridge University

"unforgettable" (Booklist, starred) family story, now in paperback "In 1963, Ellie's mother, Doris Day Dingman, was crowned the Bosetti Beauty at Mr.

Bosetti's supermarket, President John F. Kennedy was assassinated, and the Dingmans began to fall apart." So begins 11-yr-old Eleanor Roosevelt Dingman's story. Ellie, who is about to start 6th grade in the small town of Spectacle, NY, is the oldest child in her off-center family. Her father works construction jobs, while her mother, Doris, has only one dream - to become a rich and famous actress. But when that dream leads to Doris's abandonment of the family, it is Ellie who is called upon to take charge.
