 With the rapid changes in the social, political, economic and technological landscape around the world, today's learners face a more globally competitive job market after leaving school. The 21st century, which is characterized by the emergence of knowledge-based societies, expects learners to be comfortable in dealing with ambiguities and complexities in the real world and to be able to use knowledge as a tool at their workplace. This book will help readers develop an in-depth understanding of authentic problem solving and learning, and how it can be used to make a difference in their school or learning communities for the development of 21st century competencies. Comprising 20 chapters written by

Singapore-based and international authors, the book is organized into three themes: authentic problems, authentic practices, and authentic participation. It details innovative school practices (e.g. productive failure) concerning the design of problems, learning activities, learning environments, and ICT tools for authentic problem solving and learning. Along with theoretical explanations of authentic learning processes and outcomes, the book also elucidates how students learn by generating and exploring solutions to complex problems and which cognitive functions are needed at different stages of problem-based learning. Presenting coherent descriptions of instructional design principles, successful cases and challenges encountered in K-12 schools and learning communities, the book provides useful information, new insights, and practical guidance for school directors, parents, teachers and researchers seeking to develop authentic learning environments for 21st century learners.

Fruto de mais de 15 anos de pesquisa sobre o tema, este livro trata da linguagem corporal e, especialmente, da mentira. O objetivo é revelar ao leitor um meio prático de reconhecer as mentiras, lidar com os mentirosos e evitar as armadilhas que as mentiras impõem em diversos contextos: em casa, na escola, no ambiente de trabalho, na política. O tema é tratado tanto do ponto de vista científico como do prático, com exemplos do dia a dia das pessoas, mostrando desde os motivos pelos quais elas mentem à identificação da mentira por meio da observação da linguagem corporal. O autor não imprime um tom moralista, mas defende que não se constrói algo bom com base na mentira.

This primer is designed to teach students the interconnected arts of visual communication. The subject is presented, not as a foreign language, but as a native one that the student "knows" but cannot yet "read." Responding to the need she so clearly perceives, Ms. Dondis, a designer and teacher of broad experience, has provided a beginning text for art and design students and a basic text for all other students; those who do not intend to become artists or designers but who need to acquire the essential skills of understanding visual communication at a time when so much information is being studied and transmitted in non-verbal modes, especially through photography and film. Understanding through seeing only seems to be an obviously intuitive process.

Actually, developing the visual sense is something like learning a language, with its own special alphabet, lexicon, and syntax. People find it necessary to be verbally literate whether they are "writers": or not; they should find it equally necessary to be visually literate, "artists" or not. This primer is designed to teach students the interconnected arts of visual communication. The subject is presented, not as a foreign language, but as a native one that the student "knows" but cannot yet "read." The analogy provides a useful teaching method, in part because it is not overworked or too rigorously applied. This method of learning to see and read visual data has already been proved in practice, in settings ranging from Harlem to suburbia. Appropriately, the book makes some of its most telling points through visual means. Numerous illustrated examples are employed to clarify the basic elements of design (teach an alphabet), to show how they are used in simple syntactic combinations ("See Jane run."), and finally, to present the meaningful synthesis of visual information that is a finished work of art (the apprehension of poetry...).

Issues in Materials

Development provides readers with theoretical foundations and practical aspects of designing materials for EFL/ESL contexts. It starts with discussing some basic and preliminary principles of materials design followed by scrutinizing critical issues in materials development in an objective and systematic way. This ranges from considering learners' needs, adopting, adapting, selection, and gradation of materials to the specific focus of the book on developing various types of materials for the four language skills, pronunciation, ESP vocabulary, and computer assisted language learning materials. Authenticity of materials to be designed and the inclusion of affective factors to develop motivating materials to engage language learners, in addition to features of materials design at a universal level are other areas to read about. This book finally tries to open new horizons and possible futuristic approaches to improve today's ELT materials. The Psychology of Awakening Editora

A técnica corporal: Gradus ad Parnassum para a arte da Educação Física escolar é um daqueles textos que surgem inicialmente sem grandes pretensões, apenas com o intuito de fazer uma breve análise e compreensão das contradições que se apresentam na realidade de determinadas áreas de conhecimento. Um texto que geralmente materializa-se em forma de um pequeno artigo científico. Entretanto, tendo por objetivo tentar explicar e discutir a problemática da técnica de movimento na Educação Física à luz de diferentes quadros teóricos, para obtenção de uma argumentação crítica capaz de orientar novas reflexões que possam instrumentalizar possíveis caminhos para a transcendência de tal problemática, o autor utiliza-se de uma construção lógico-racional que ultrapassou as capacidades de uma breve estrutura de comunicação, atingindo a proporção de um texto dissertativo que se materializou em forma de um livro sobre a temática da técnica na Educação Física. Tal abrangência deve-se a alguns fatos, entre eles o da riqueza histórica da técnica humana, um objeto de análise fascinante que espanta com tamanha grandeza e beleza da construção humana, e que certamente também encantará os leitores deste livro, especialmente alunos, professores e técnicos da área de Educação Física, esportes e outras áreas afins. Outro fator que obrigatoriamente ampliou os horizontes deste texto foi a intencionalidade de empreender um estudo analítico e interpretativo da aprendizagem da técnica do movimento de forma mais aprofundada, tentando, por meio de um procedimento essencialmente dialético, nomear a consistência e a inconsistência dessa formação em si, explicitando, assim, a contradição entre a ideia objetiva dessas formações técnicas e aquela pretensão tecnicista. Por fim, de forma imanente, as contradições surgiram como um testemunho de que a ideologia da técnica em si não é falsa, mas sim a sua pretensão em coincidir com uma realidade fabricada na e pela modernidade, na Educação Física, e, mais especificamente, na sua vertente escolar. Resultados apresentados e avaliados que ajudam a refletir e a compreender de forma mais crítica e consciente essas contradições, e que serão de grande valia para os futuros leitores deste texto.

Nós temos muito medo do Diabo. Ele sempre nos incomoda porque está associado ao Mal. Essa criatura, contudo, exerce considerável protagonismo nos escritos de Machado de Assis, autor mundialmente celebrado pela acuidade literária com que sonda as regiões impenetráveis da vida humana; nessas dimensões, muitas vezes sombrias, Machado encontra o Diabo ou seus emissários. Qual é o papel que o Diabo exerce nas obras do autor? É isso que O protagonismo do Diabo em Machado de Assis pretende analisar, a partir de excertos diversos, escritos em gêneros diferentes, representativos da coerência com que a obra machadiana retrata as contradições humanas, inspiradas ora em Deus, ora no Diabo, que sempre andam juntos, um ao outro sustenta. O Diabo, tendemos a enxergá-lo no Outro, no diferente, diante do qual nos sentimos ameaçados e que, por isso mesmo, deve ser eliminado. Machado resolve esse dilema ao rejeitar o figurino tradicional com que o pintamos. Fica a suspeita de que o Mal-Diabo não está no Outro somente, mas também dentro de cada um de nós, o que explicaria as contradições eternas a que todos os seres humanos estão expostos. No conto "A Igreja do Diabo", o próprio Deus diz que a contradição dos seres humanos é eterna, para consolar o Diabo das decepções que os humanos lhe tinham causado. O bruxo de Cosme Velho domesticou todas as legiões. Como se vê, o Diabo machadiano não inspira medo. Os seres humanos, sim.

An Unshakable Mind describes ways to build inner confidence and develop a firm character based on a spiritual perspective. Make instant, meaningful connections. For interviewing, selling, managing, pitching an idea, applying to college—or looking for a soulmate—the secret of success is based on connecting with other people. And you can do it in 90 seconds or less through Nicholas Boothman's program of establishing face-to-face communication. A master of Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP), Boothman teaches us the concept of synchrony—how to synchronize our attitudes, body language, and voice tone in a way that instantly and imperceptibly makes us irresistibly likable to another person. He explains the different between open and closed body language. The power of communicating with what he calls a Really Useful Attitude. How to be an active listener. And how to identify and read the three most important sensory preferences. Step by step, it shows how to make the very best of any relationship's most critical moment—those

This book offers a comprehensive synthesis of over 40 years of research on models in physical education to suggest Models-based Practice (MbP) as an innovative future approach to physical education. It lays out the ideal conditions for MbP to flourish by situating pedagogical models at the core of physical education programs and allowing space for local agency and the co-construction of practice. Starting from the premise that true MbP does not yet exist, the book makes a case for the term "pedagogical model" over alternatives such as curriculum model and instructional model, and explains how learners' cognitive, social, affective and psychomotor needs should be organised in ways that are distinctive and unique to each model. It examines the core principles underpinning the pedagogical models that make up MbP, including pedagogical models as organising centres for program design and as design specifications for developing local programs. The book also explores how a common structure can be applied to analyse pedagogical models at macro, meso and micro levels of discourse. Having created a language through which to talk about pedagogical models and MbP, the book concludes by identifying the conditions - some existing and some aspirational - under which MbP can prosper in reforming physical education. An essential read for academics, doctoral and post-graduate students, and pre-service and in-service teachers, Models-based Practice in Physical Education is a vital point of reference for anyone who is interested in pedagogical models and wants to embrace this potential future of physical education.
